

LEADING ENERGY ECONOMICS AND RESEARCH CONSULTANCY QAMAR ENERGY AND STRATEGY FIRM LAVAUX GLOBAL FORM A GLOBAL ALLIANCE

23rd April, 2018

Dubai | Perth, 23 April 2018 – Qamar Energy and LAVAUX Global today announced the establishment of an alliance to redefine how global energy and resource companies combine energy economics, geopolitical analysis and market research in their strategic planning and organisation.

The alliance will leverage Qamar’s unparalleled research, energy economics and advisory capabilities with LAVAUX’s wealth of expertise in corporate strategy in the energy sector, operational excellence and organizational design. The alliance will support clients primarily in the Middle East, Australia and SE Asia.

Robin Mills, the CEO of Qamar Energy, said that “unprecedented geopolitical and technological changes face the energy industry from the Middle East through Asia. The Qamar-Lavaux alliance helps companies and governments to move beyond traditional advice, to translate an understanding of these transformations into effective strategies and robust, flexible organisations.”

Dr Dorel Iosif, the Founding Partner and CEO of LAVAUX Global, said that “our alliance with Qamar Energy will offer our clients integrated market research, strategy and organisational effectiveness. Our assistance enables our clients to synthesise energy economics, energy policy and data analysis to drive the planning of solid and executable corporate strategy, business strategy, organisational effectiveness and innovation. The Qamar-Lavaux alliance bridges that gap with an integrated, seamless offering that is more efficient and cost-effective for our clients.”
